Eco friendly with income and lifestyle

Whether you are looking for inter-generational living, guest accommodation or rental income, this incredible property offers a plethora of quality infrastructure on ten acres of flood free, flat usable land whilst being conveniently located on the edge of the vibrant town of Mullumbimby.

With a perfect North aspect and complete privacy, a bitumen tree-lined road leads to a 2019 built spacious, near new, European inspired barn-style home that makes extensive use of timber and glass and, with soaring cathedral ceilings, offers a funky, light and bright feel.

With concrete floors throughout and passive solar design, the four bedroom home includes a modern kitchen, multiple living spaces including a beautiful, covered outdoor space and an outdoor bath in the gazebo to soak up the serenity.

Further dwellings include the original three-bedroom brick and tile home with separate entry, a generously proportioned and well-appointed, quality yurt with timber floors, a private loft apartment above the machinery shed with high ceilings and combustion heating, a one-bedroom and a workers cabin.

With views to Mount Chincogan, the property is surrounded by lush, established gardens and an abundance of native timbers and fruit trees. The five-acre fenced paddock is ideal for horses or as a hobby farm and completing the package is a dam and potable bore, offering water security and an expansive 9.4kW solar system.
