

131 Dalley Street, Mullumbimby

A Piece of History with Modern Potential

Step into a world of historic charm with this exquisite weatherboard character home built in 1920. Nestled on a generous 992m² block, this property not only offers a unique glimpse into the past but also presents exceptional development opportunities with a DA approval for a granny flat or second dwelling, complete with approved plans and footings.

Upon entering this freshly painted, charming residence, you're greeted by the sunroom that sets the tone for the rest of the home. The substantial living area, with the original brick fireplace, invites you to relax and unwind. The kitchen, the true heart of this home has potential for expansion, flows into another living and dining space at the rear of the house, perfect for family gatherings and entertaining guests.

The rear of the property boasts an enclosed sunroom that offers additional space, ideal for enjoying serene backyard views. The raised house overlooks the west-facing yard, which bathes in afternoon light and is perfect for unwinding after a long day. The easy-care gardens, paired with an abundance of fruit trees, provide a peaceful retreat with ample room for outdoor activities and future development.

What truly sets this property apart is its exceptional development prospects. The DA approval for a granny flat, with plans and footings already in place, opens a world of possibilities for expansion or the construction of a second dwelling. The added potential for rear lane access enhances its appeal, making it an ideal choice for both first-time buyers, families and savvy investors.
